

MPA COURSES FOR SPRING 2008

REGISTRATION DEADLINE: JANUARY 10 -- CLASSES START JANUARY 14

PA 610 Public and Administrative Law. To be taught by Dr. Brooks. This course presents a comprehensive understanding of the concepts and principles of public law, with special focus on American constitutional law and administrative law processes that are responsible for the formation and execution of public policy. Upon completion of this course students will understand constitutional law and its relationship to public administration and the bureaucratic policy process more fully. Wednesday 7:00-9:40 Morehead, Lexington, Somerset, and Hazard

PA 630 Politics of Public Policy. To be taught by Dr. Lange. This course presents a more comprehensive understanding of the concepts and principles of public policy, with special focus on American institutions and political processes that are responsible for the formation and execution of public policy. Upon completion of this course students will be able to understand public policy and its relationship to public administration and the American political system more fully. Tuesday 4:00-6:40 Lexington

PA 650 Federalism Theory and Constitutional Law. To be taught by Dr. Hail. This course focuses upon theories of federalism and constitutional law as they impact public administration in national and sub-national organizations and units. Tuesday 7:00-9:40 Lexington

PA 690 Public Administration Internship. To be arranged with Dr. Hail. This course provides practical experience in agency, organization, or field setting related to the student's career and research interests. Student will work in settings over the full semester or summer and complete a research paper, organizational analysis, position or policy paper that integrates the intellectual world with the real world.

RAPP 610 Ideology and Policy Development in Appalachia. To be taught by Dr. Brooks. An examination of the political ideologies of the Western world, with special emphasis on the interplay of history culture and political systems of Appalachia. Tuesday 7:00-9:40 Morehead, Lexington, Somerset, and Hazard

RAPP 620 Economic Development. To be taught by Dr. Cave. Analysis of economic change and development processes and their consequences with emphasis upon regional rural areas. Special emphasis on the role of physical and cultural landscapes in shaping economic development. Tuesday 7:00-9:40 Morehead, Lexington, and Somerset

RAPP 630 Graduate Seminar in Regional Analysis and Policy: Education Policy. To be taught by Dr. Dexter Alexander. This course will examine the history of education policy in the U.S. with emphasis upon the institutions and organizations of public policy in the U.S. system of federalism. Monday 7:00-9:40 ITV Morehead, Lexington, Somerset, and Hazard

RAPP 630 Graduate Seminar in Regional Analysis and Policy: Homeland Security Policy. To be taught by Dr. Hail. This course will review the major issues of U.S. national security, the organization of homeland security, and the theoretical and historical framework for understanding security policy in the 21st century. Monday 7:00-9:40 Morehead

RAPP 670 Directed Research. To be arranged by Dr. Hail. Focused research under the direction of a graduate faculty member. Time to be arranged with the instructor.

SOC 615 Sociological Research. To be taught by Dr. Bylund. Advanced study in behavioral research methodology; empirical generalizations, proposition formation and analysis, data gathering and interpretation, instrumentation, scaling techniques, and supervised application of methods. Monday 6-8:40 Morehead

SOC 635 Organizations in Contemporary Society. To be taught by Dr. Reeves. An analysis of organizations as social systems. An inquiry into bureaucratic developments in educational, industrial, military, and welfare institutions. Thursday 6:00-8:40 Morehead

For additional program information, contact:

Dr. Michael Hail, MPA Program Director
606-783-5407 or 859-351-9997 (cell)
m.hail@moreheadstate.edu
Dr. David Rudy, Dean of IRAPP
606-783-5419
d.rudy@moreheadstate.edu

For more information: <http://irapp.moreheadstate.edu/mpa>

Admission Information: <http://www.moreheadstate.edu/admissions>

To sign-up go to: <http://www.moreheadstate.edu/registrar>

Academic Calendar: <http://www.moreheadstate.edu/calendar>